7.2 – Best Practices

7.2.1 – Describe at least two institutional best practices

1) Value based Education: The College is committed to impart value based education to the students and connect them to their culture and tradition apart from imparting formal and professional education in the various streams. The founder father, a great visionary Jathedar Sohan Singh Jalalusman has established this institution to commemorate the great martyr Shaheed Darshan Singh Pheruman. The mission and Vision of the college is to educate and empower the girls to make them self confident and self reliable. The college has its focus on the quality education with value added courses to develop the 5 H qualities among the students i.e. Quality of Head, Quality of Hand, Quality of Health, Quality of Honor and Quality of Holiness.In the era of commercialization consumerism and materialism the value system has been getting a back bench seat in the modern scenario. This lack of moral values have been corroding the vital part of the societal fabric, That means our youth. As the college is committed to the facilitated development of the girls students so the faculty members educate them with the holistic approach and make them competent in every field of academics , sports and culture. The value based education promotes high academic standards by nurturing ethical qualities among the students. This practice concentrate on sensitizing the students to the social issues in the community through the NSS and NCC. They become connected with the society and empower themselves with the qualities like sensitization, character building, emotional balance, civic sense, and above all it helps them to be the constructive and productive citizen of the country. The College faculty has always been on their toes under the dexterous guidance of versatile principal to inculcate the quality and spirit of strive for excellence among the students.This spirit inspires them to put all their sincere efforts, perseverance and passion to ignite the spark of learning skills. Maximum emphasis is laid on developing the IQ, EQ and SQ of the students. 2) Fee concession and Scholarship: The College is committed to impart quality education to the girl students hailing from the surrounding villages. The girls in this strata belongs to the poor families and cannot afford the expenditure of higher education. To help these needy students the college provides genuine fee concession to the economically poor students. They achieve the higher education to stand on their feet and to become self dependent as manifested in mission and vision of the college. The merit holder students.are awarded with the merit scholarship. The college has established a scholarship cell where the SC/ BC and Minority students are guided to apply for the Post Matric Scholarship scheme. This scholarship and financial help felicitate the economically weaker students to pursue higher education in the college.A bulky fee concession, poverty concession, stipends are given to the students for their education in the college.The needy students are also given the book facilities from the book bank of the College library, college uniform is also given to the needy students. The students participating in the Zonal Youth festival are given the incentives in monatry terms. The buddy players of the college are given the freeship and half fees facility as per their performance in the sports.They are also given the free hostel facility in the college hostel.Eventually the College is committed to provide a genuine financial aid to the students to reduce the burden of the economically weaker students.Apart from this the students are given the facility to deposit their fee on the easy installments. Infact studying in this college is very beneficial for the beneficiaries as the college has a well developed system of student support facilities. Moreover the conducive environment of teaching learning in the college is really full of quality and virtues where students get their hidden talent explored and exhibited on the platform of higher education in this temple of learning.
